

Additional Information
for Pre-Deportation Detainees
at the Police Detention Center Salzburg

Ladies and Gentlemen,

This folder shall provide you with basic information and some support for your time in detention. The folder is addressed to all detainees pending deportation in the PAZ Salzburg.

We have tried to answer the most important questions of everyday life in the PAZ. If you have other questions, do not hesitate to contact a police officer or social service agent.

If something is unclear to you, and above all, if you are asked to sign a document, you should always ask for an explanation first.

Any expressions particularly referring to males (e.g. policeman) also include females (e.g. policewoman). To facilitate reading this information exclusively uses the male form (e.g. policeman).

The address is: Polizeianhaltezentrum (PAZ), Alpenstraße 90, 5020 Salzburg

2. Rules of Detention

The Rules of Detention regulate life in the detention facility. Moreover, the Rules of Detention cover your rights and duties. The most important items of the Rules of Detention are being explained on this information sheet.

You may read the original version of the Rules of Detention at any time. Should you wish to read the entire text of the Rules of Detention, please contact a police officer.

4. Which objects may I keep in my cell?

Moreover, you may keep small quantities of hygiene articles, cutlery, food and cigarettes in your cell. Leisure articles (games, newspapers and journals, books...) are also permitted. Should anybody demand money from you, please IMMEDIATELY inform a police officer.

5. Where are my personal belongings and my money?

Your personal belongings are kept in the storeroom of the Police Detention Centre (PAZ). In general, you may take clothes and those objects which you are allowed to keep in your cell from the storeroom. Should you require anything from the storeroom, please contact a police officer on your floor or a social service agent!

This is regulated by Section 9 of the Rules of Detention and by order of the commanding officer.
